SUMMER CONCERT AT THE CATHEDRAL BASILICA
SIDNEY SUSSEX COLLEGE CHOIR from Cambridge

Friday, July 10, 2015 at 8 PM

No Tickets. Free Will Offering
Limited FREE Parking

SIDNEY SUSSEX COLLEGE rose from the ruins of the Cambridge Greyfriars in 1596 and has long been a nest for professional musicians. Indeed the large chapel that stood on this site in pre- Reformation times was the regular venue for University ceremonies and was the venue where a number of early English composers took their degrees, including Robert Fayrfax (MusB, 1501; DMus 1504) and Christopher Tye (MusB, 1536). One of the earliest musicians in the College was the Royalist pamphleteer, author, and violist Roger L'Estrange (1616–1704), whose family were patrons of the composer John Jenkins. Earlier still, the great Elizabethan composer William Byrd would have been well-known to the foundress, Lady Frances Sidney, and indeed two very fine elegies by Byrd survive for her nephew, the poet and courtier Sir Philip Sidney. Currently resident in the College is Dr Christopher Page (1991), founder and former director of the multi-award-winning Gothic Voices, and Dr David Skinner (2006) who is director of the early music ensemble Alamire, and Sidney's first Director of Music.

The Choir's first recording with Obsidian was Thomas Tomkins 'These Distracted Times' with Fretwork and Alamire, which was awarded Editor's Choice and CD of the Month in the Gramophone. Their most recent was music by Thomas Weelkes, also with Fretwork, which was nominated for a Gramophone Award in 2014. The choir has since gone on to record and tour a number of innovative programmes, and frequently tours throughout Europe and the USA.

The YouTube link <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-HPzNE4mM7c> is of a live recording from Souvigny Music Festival, France, last September; the choir can also be found on Spotify.
